

Kings Weston Estate Tree-mendous Treasure Hunt

Unusual trees and other mysterious things are hidden in the woods around Kings Weston House. Can you spot them?

From the house to the folly (the arched ruin)

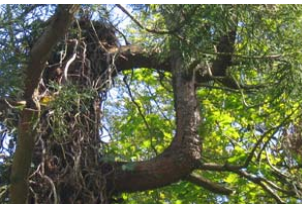

Find the trees growing inside an abandoned house.

Look opposite to see a giant octopus (some legs are missing).

You wouldn't like to go for a swim in this pool!

The branches of this tree have made a square window in the sky.

This tree would make a good seat in the rain.

Can you see faces looking down on you?

Turn right at the folly

Spot the tree with eyes on its trunk.

Enjoy the woods safely & responsibly: take litter home, avoid picking whole flowers & plants, & wash your hands afterwards.
www.forestofavontrust.org

Find a moth-eaten beech tree – is anything hiding in the holes?

Can you see the woodland toilets? Now out of action.

Spot the tiny tree growing out of a dead giant.

Find the ivy man.

At the grassy crossroads take the path back

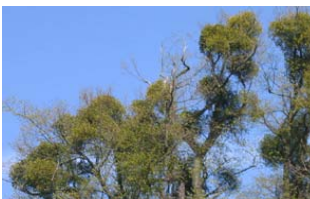

These small spiky trees might make you think of Christmas.

These trees have flat tops – tree top tables for the birds?

In autumn you might get a free snack from this sea of prickles below you.

You might give someone a Christmas kiss under this tree.

Enjoy the woods safely & responsibly: take litter home, avoid picking whole flowers & plants, & wash your hands afterwards.
www.forestofavontrust.org